Helping you build a family of faith

The Quran is full of moral values, teachings and prayers. These values guard believers from evil and wrongdoing. If a person has good moral values, he is not only successful in the world but is raised up in the eyes of Allah. Some of the moral values which the Quran remind believers to practice are given in the following pages.

Believers are thankful to Allah. They never miss saying their prayers.

Believers are thankful to their parents. They respect their parents
and elders and avoid profane talk.

Believers give alms to the poor. They spend their wealth for the cause of Allah.

Believers are trustworthy.
They keep their promises.
They guard their chastity.

Believers do not slander.
They are not mean.
Neither are they proud,
nor they scold or
make fun of others.

Believers are humble,
kind and courteous.

When believers become angry, they forgive. They do not behave as if they are better than others and they do not complain.

Believers do not feel
hatred or jealousy.
They pardon those
who harm them.

Believers are moderate
and avoid luxurious
living and greed.

Believers always remain patient if any hardship befalls them.
They do not talk
rudely to others or
backbite or hurt them
with nicknames.

Believers do not tell lies. They are truthful and
trustworthy.
They always speak the truth.

May Allah help us
all to possess good
moral values.
Amen.
